

Advanced Packaging & Technology Trends

Rutherford Appleton Laboratory, Didcot OX11 0QX

MicroTech Highlights:

- Discover New Technologies*
- Exciting Keynote Presentations*
- Eight Technical Presentations*
- Related Industry Exhibition*
- High Impact Research Session*
- Academic Research Posters*
- Incorporates IMAPS-UK AGM*
- Excellent Networking Opportunities*
- Event sold-out for past 4 years!*

The event features invited Keynote talks, technical presentations & table top exhibits on the latest developments, technologies and capabilities. It incorporates a high-impact oral session and poster displays from UK research. This year's conference theme is: "Advanced Packaging & Technology Trends".

With the last four consecutive MicroTech conferences having sold-out, we recommend delegates and exhibitors reserve their place without delay.

MicroTech 2017 provides opportunity for:

- updates on the latest developments, materials, devices & technologies in microelectronic & related packaging
- networking with end-users, researchers, supply chains and technology providers
- review of related research from leading Academic institutions
- business development for your Company and products

MicroTech 2017 brings together experts from across the microelectronics sector to discuss the latest technologies and developments, as well as providing a platform to highlight current commercial opportunities.
