IMAPS-UK is the United Kingdom Chapter of the International Microelectronics Assembly & Packaging Society – IMAPS, the largest Microelectronic Packaging Society in the World.

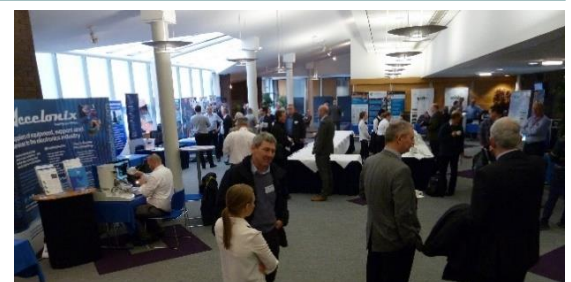

Coinciding with the 50th anniversary of IMAPS-UK, MicroTech 2018 promises to be the UK's largest Microelectronics and Advanced Packaging conference. Located at the stunning Windsor Conference Building at Royal Holloway, London University, the conference provides the ideal venue for exhibitors to connect with an audience of key decision makers across the Microelectronics industry.

Whether your aim is to raise the profile of your business, connect with a wide audience of potential customers or position your company as a key partner to the UK's largest gathering of Microelectronics professionals, MicroTech 2018 is set to be an unmissable event. Exhibitors are invited to make an introduction to delegates as the conference opens and to showcase products & services throughout the day in the beautiful surroundings of the Windsor Building. Exhibitors additionally benefit from promotional marketing through IMAPS-UK media channels, attendance to the MicroTech 2018 Gala Dinner and on-site conference accommodation.

EXHIBITOR BENEFITS:

- UK's largest Microelectronics and Advanced Packaging conference.
- Multiple engagement opportunities throughout the day with key industry decision makers and the opportunity to address the entire conference.
- Extensive promotional exposure via IMAPS-UK marketing channels.
- Beautiful, professional conference and exhibition space.
- Exhibitor pack including guest tickets (with discounted prices), marketing pack, attendee information, accommodation and an invitation to attend the prestigious conference Gala Dinner.
