

Mark Kenny is the Managing Director of Rydon Technology Ltd a supplier of Equipment and Materials to the Microelectronics, Photonics and SMT Industry. He started his career in Process Engineering at Motorola 39 years ago. At Motorola he helped to develop the first Six Sigma operations in the UK. At Inmos/ST he was the Package Design manager responsible for the range of package styles both Plastic and Ceramic. In addition he was responsible for the off-shore assembly of Inmos Products that required working with the major Asian Subcontractors. At ASAT UK he was Head of Engineering and Quality for Europe's largest OSAT from start up to mass volume. He joined Rydon Technology in 1998. Mark holds a degree in Electrical and Electronics Engineering, an MBA and also a Diploma in Education and Training.