IPICO

The IMAPS-UK Photo and Illustration Competition (IPICo) is the first open competition intended to highlight the "beauty" and fascination of the world of electronics packaging. Whatever area you may be working on in this field, there will always be something that is eye-catching and interesting to others in the electronics packaging community.

IPICo aims to capture and publicise these moments, so that they can be appreciated by a wider audience. This competition welcomes the contributions of electronics professionals, researchers and students from all levels and ages.

Round 2 of the IPICo Competition is open to the submission of entries until 30th May 2025. The results will be announced at the IMAPS-UK Academic Conference on 19th June 2025 at the London Institute of Healthcare Engineering.
